

K. P. Kyriakis, S. Terzoudi, I. Palamaras, G. Pagana, C. Michailides, S. Emmanueldes. Pityriasis versicolor prevalence by age and gender	517	self-collected vaginal swabs of women after taking antibiotics	523
L. A. Proia, G. M. Trenholme. Chronic refractory phaeohyphomycosis: successful treatment with posaconazole	519	BOOK REVIEW	525
S. N. Tabrizi, M. V. Pirotta, E. Rudland, S. M. Garland. Detection of Candida species by PCR in		CONGRESS CALENDAR	526

CAPTION OF THE COVER ILLUSTRATION. Dermatohistopathological presentation of a nodular granulomatous perifolliculitis caused by Trichophyton verrucosum, i.e. dermatohistopathological presentation of single fungal elements by immunohistochemistry using a polyclonal antibody against BCG.
 See: Placzek et al: Perniosis-like tinea corporis caused by Trichophyton verrucosum in cold-exposed individuals, pp. 475-478 in this issue.
