

Contents

Bernal, V., Luna, L.H. The development of dental research in Argentinean biological anthropology: Current state and future perspectives _____	315
Luna, L.H., Bernal, V. Current status and perspectives of the development of dental research in biological anthropology of Argentina: Introduction and conclusions of the symposium _____	328
Flensburg, G. Dento-alveolar lesions and palaeodietary inferences from the Paso Alsina 1 site (eastern Pampean–Patagonian transition, Argentina) _____	335
Gonçalves, D. The reliability of osteometric techniques for the sex determination of burned human skeletal remains _____	351
Skrzek, A., Ignasiak, Z., Koziel, S. Different involutionary changes in bone mineral density with age in three skeletal sites in healthy Polish women _____	359
Naples, V.L., Rothschild, B.M. Do ribs actually have a bare area? A new analysis _____	368
Kaur, M., Talwar, I. Body composition and fat distribution among older Jat females: A rural _____	374
Alt, K.W. Book reviews _____	386