

Editorial

Statistical requirements for reporting nutrition research 174

Leading article

Dietitians in the electronic age: Progressing towards e-health 177

Just what the doctor ordered: Moving forward with electronic health records

Therese A. O'Sullivan, Nathan A. Billing and David Stokes 179

The results of a pilot time-and-motion study in three Australian hospitals: Where do we spend our time?

Marianna Milosavljevic, Peter Williams, Geraldine Perez and Tegan Dalla 185

Dietetic practice in the management of gestational diabetes mellitus: A survey of Australian dietitians

Melinda K. Morrison, Clare E. Collins and Julia M. Lowe 189

Exploratory investigation of factors affecting dietetic workforce satisfaction

Sarah Cody, Maree Ferguson and Ben Desbrow 195

Hearts and Minds Project: A breastfeeding curriculum intervention to improve the education outcomes for nutrition and dietetics graduates

Barbara Radcliffe and Jan Payne 201

Use of an arginine-enriched oral nutrition supplement in the healing of pressure ulcers in patients with spinal cord injuries: An observational study

Brooke R. Chapman, Kelly J. Mills, Leonie M. Pearce and Timothy C. Crowe 208

Dietetic care of hip fracture patients across Australia: Are we doing enough?

Rachel Milte and Michelle Miller 214

Eating for health: Perspectives of older men who live alone

Carol A. Wham and Jennifer A. Bowden 221

Biting off more than you can chew; is it possible to precisely count carbohydrate?

Carmel E. Smart, Lori K. Hopley, Deirdre Burgess and Clare E. Collins 227

Lecture in honour of Karen Cashel

Anthea Magarey 231