

Contents

Introduction: Progress in Natural Resource Based Emission Reduction Activities in the Tropic Sebastian Thomas	01
Definition of Forest for REDD+: an Unresolved Issue Medrilzam and Paul Dargusch	19
An Assessment of Potential Benefits to Smallholders of REDD+ in the Philippines Rodel Lasco, Florencia Pulhin, Leonida Bugayong, and Marlo Mendoza	31
Peat Forest Rehabilitation in Central Kalimantan and REDD+: Conflicting Roles of Government Agencies Farwiza Farhan, Medrilzam and Sebastian Thomas	49
Will Indonesia be Successful in Reducing its Greenhouse Gas Emissions with REDD+? The Threat of Organizational Fragmentation Medrilzam, Paul Dargusch and John Herbohn	67
Opportunities to Produce Carbon Offsets Using Conservation Farming Practices John Rochecouste and Paul Dargusch	85
Why Are There so Few Carbon Offset Projects in Pacific Island Countries? Paul Dargusch, Shaun McMahon, Sebastian Thomas and Ray Collins	101
The Economic Drivers and Environmental Outcomes of CDM Projects in Vietnam Leonard Smith, Paul Dargusch and Sebastian Thomas	121