

Fisheries Management and Ecology

Contents

Original Articles

- 273 Typology of landowners in Norwegian salmon angling: attitudes towards river owner organisations and management actions
S. Stensland
- 283 Non-lethal sampling of walleye for stable isotope analysis: a comparison of three tissues
M. J. Fincel, J. A. Vandehey & S. R. Chipps
- 293 Effects of predator species, vegetation and prey assemblage on prey preferences of predators with emphasis on vulnerability of age-0 common carp
M. J. Weber & M. L. Brown
- 301 Conservation genetics and management of yellowtail snapper, Ocyurus chrysurus, in the US Caribbean and South Florida
E. A. Saillant, M. A. Renshaw, N. J. Cummings & J. R. Gold
- 313 Can acoustic shadows identify fish species? A novel application of imaging sonar data
M. C. Langkau, H. Balk, M. B. Schmidt & J. Borchering
- 323 Estimation of northern pike population sizes via mark-recapture monitoring
A. Kuparinen, J. S. Alho, M. Olin & H. Lehtonen
- 333 Changes in angler participation and demographics: analysis of a 17-year licence stub return system for Atlantic salmon
J. B. Dempson, M. J. Robertson, N. M. Cochrane, M. F. O'Connell & G. Porter
- 344 Critical Thermal Minima of age-0 Australian bass, Macquaria novemaculeata, fingerlings: implications for stocking programmes
L. M. Cameron, L. J. Baumgartner, D. J. Bucher & W. Robinson
- 352 Comparison of three standardised fish sampling methods in 14 alpine lakes in Austria
D. Achleitner, H. Gassner & M. Luger