

FOOD, CULTURE & SOCIETY

Editorial

Editor's note

Megan J. Elias

343

Research Articles

Half the battle is fought in the kitchen: convalescence and cookery in 1920s and 1930s Britain

Phil Lyon and Ethel Kautto

345

Engagements in situationally appropriate home cooking

Kaisa Torkkeli, Kristiina Janhonen and Johanna Mäkelä

368

Beyond bully beef: soldiers, food and transcultural interactions in World War I

Heather Merle Benbow, Kate Darian-Smith and Véronique Duché-Gavet

390

Verace Glocal Pizza. Localized globalism and globalized localism in the Neapolitan artisan pizza

Marialuisa Stazio

406

Localizing taste: using metaphors to understand locultural consumptionscapes

Renu Emile, Russell W. Belk and John R. Clammer

431

Feeding "the commons": rethinking food rights through indigenous ontologies

Giovanna Micarelli

446

Who is "deserving" of aid? Subject-formation in Istanbul's food banks

Candan Turkkan

464

Pedagogy Article

"A new understanding and appreciation for the marvel of growing things": exploring the college farm's contribution to transformative learning

Amanda S. Green

481

Book Reviews

499