

TABLE OF CONTENTS

List of illustrations	8
Acknowledgements	13
Abbreviations	15
I. INTRODUCTION	19
1. Aims and organisation of the study	22
2. The historiographical position	27
3. Sources, methodology and terminology	31
II. THE HISTORICAL BACKGROUND: MEDICINE, MEDICAL FILM AND HEALTH POLITICS IN THE PERIOD BETWEEN IMPERIAL AND NAZI GERMANY	37
1. Ideological roots of German medicine: Social Darwinism and racial hygiene	37
2. Medical film in Weimar Germany: Modern forms of science communication in medical research, training and propaganda	40
3. Health politics, ethics and ideology: Key aspects of medicine in Weimar and Nazi Germany	50
III. 'SEIZING SPACES': THE ORGANISATION OF NAZI EDUCATIONAL AND MEDICAL FILM POLICY, 1933-1945	59
1. Introduction	59
2. 'Great new tasks': The centralisation of German educational film	60
2.1. The international educational film movement	60
2.2. The debate over the Reich Film Law	63
2.3. The foundation of the RWU	66
2.4. The functioning of the RWU	75
3. Medical films, Gestapo and control: The University Department of the RWU	79
3.1. The Gleichschaltung of the universities and the founding of the University Department of the RWU	79
3.2. 'We have neither the time nor the space for such beings': RWU President Kurt Gauger and his views on the weak and handicapped	83